Baptismal Bonds Strong, Cardinal Tells Observers

ROSE (NC)—Aptitude Catholic Church in Rose, a city of 8,000 which is 20 miles from Raleigh, N. C., received a special papal permission for non-Catholic to say Mass and hear confessions in the city, on the basis of the new Code of Canon Law, which went into effect Dec. 31.

Cardinal Bea added that "nothing was more important than the relations of the Church with the outside world, with the people who do not share the faith and who have a different organization of their religious life." He said that the new Code of Canon Law would help the Church to achieve its goal of ecumenism.

Cardinal Bea noted that the Catholic Church has always been open to the outside world, and that this openness has been a key factor in its development. He said that the Church has always been willing to listen to other people's concerns and to learn from their experiences.

Cardinal Bea concluded his speech by saying that the Church is not afraid of change, and that it is ready to work with others to find a way to live together in peace.

Cardinal Larraona of Spain

When the Fathers of the Sacred Vailleum Council met together in Rome, the constitution they had before them was largely the responsibility of the Spanish Cardinal, Alfonso de Larraona, C.M.F., head of the Roman Province of that name and president of the Sacred Vailleum Library and, therefore, by virtue of his office, president of the Sacred Vailleum Congregation of Bishops.

Lavraona, who is at the head of the council agenda, was a member of the council of canon, who authored the draft of the constitution and other important texts.

An official report, however, explained that the face on the document bore the signature of the Archbishop of New York, Cardinal John Francis McIntyre, and that it was the result of the work of the Sacred Vailleum Congregation of Bishops, which, under the leadership of Cardinal Larraona, had produced a draft that was adopted at the end of the council.

To Save Marriage, Keep Talking

DENVER (UPI)—Ragged and shivering, marriage bureau head Mrs. Ellen B. Lattin, has issued an urgent call for premarital counseling between engaged couples.

"It is not too late," said Mrs. Lattin, "but if you wait too long, the task of the counselor will become more onerous."

The bureau's three brokers and its help desk are already at their wits' end.

MORE THAN 70% of all engagements are in grave danger of breaking up if premarital counseling is not handled with great care and precision, according to a new study by the bureau.

The study shows that 70% of all engagements are in grave danger of breaking up if premarital counseling is not handled with great care and precision, according to a new study by the bureau.

"The studies prove," said the bureau, "that counseling is not a luxury, but a necessity."

"If you wait too long," said Mrs. Lattin, "the task of the counselor will become more onerous."

"I urge engaged couples," said Mrs. Lattin, "to do whatever you can to save your engagement."

Our columnists met to discuss whether one man's higher education is worth the price in live lost and blood shed. Others argue — how best integration is to be accomplished throughout the nation — how slowly or quickly, by personal or enforced, without others' legal or moral sanction.

Interracial Strife, Interfaith Answer

CHICAGO (AP) - Social strife which once fanned racism andSmid overwhelmed violence has been said in the city's Lakeview section by the Reverend William A. Summit, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church. Summit said the problems were due to the presence of large numbers of Negroes and whites in the area, with the result that racial tensions were being fed.

"It's a pattern that's been here for a long time," he said. "We've got to break this pattern through education and understanding." He added that the area's problems could be alleviated through "a stronger community spirit." Summit also urged the formation of a "Negro-white" committee to study the situation.

The Chicago area is particularly sensitive to racial tensions because of its large Negro population. In recent months, violence has been reported in several parts of the city, including the area where Summit lives.

Serve Truth, Pope Urges Newsmen

The Pope has issued his annual Christmas greetings to the news media, saying that the truth is "a universal medicine against the destructive power of lies." He also said that the press has a special duty to "serve the truth," and that the news media should be " ambassadors of hope and peace." The Pope's message was delivered during a special mass at the Vatican and was broadcast worldwide. He said that the press should "not be afraid to speak the truth," and that the news media should be "bold in their reporting," and "brave in their convictions." He also said that the press should be "loyal to the truth," and that they should be "truthful in their reporting," and "accurate in their facts." The Pope said that the press should be "reliable in their reporting," and "dependable in their sources." He also said that the press should be "true in their reporting," and "faithful in their observations." The Pope's message was well-received by the news media, who praised him for his bravery and his courage. They said that the Pope's message was a powerful reminder of the importance of the press in today's world. They said that the press should be "true to their purpose," and "true to their profession." When ‘Sister Says’—She Knows

BY ANNIE MAE BROOKS

The mother of six is a quick study, and a very busy one, too. She has eight children, all of whom she describes as "clever". She is also the author of at least six books, including "Sister Says". She is known for her charm and wit, and her ability to make the most of any situation. She is a true expert on the art of living a happy and fulfilling life. She is also a prolific writer, with several books to her name.

The NEWARK, New Jersey, Times, March 26, 1957

Sister Margaret Vincent, a member of the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, has been appointed the president of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. She is the first woman to hold this position at a major Catholic university.

Sister Margaret Vincent is a native of Philadelphia, Pa., and is a graduate of the Catholic University of America. She has been a member of the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary for 15 years.

Sister Margaret Vincent has taught at several Catholic universities, including the University of Notre Dame in Indiana, and the University of St. Bonaventure in New York.

She has been a strong proponent of women's rights, and has been active in the women's suffrage movement.

In her new position, Sister Margaret Vincent will be responsible for the administration of the Catholic University of America, which is one of the leading Catholic universities in the United States.

Sister Margaret Vincent succeeds Father John J. O'Connor, who has been president of the university for the past 15 years.

The Catholic University of America is a private, coeducational university with a enrollment of about 5,000 students.

Sister Margaret Vincent says she will work hard to ensure that the university continues to be a leader in Catholic education and research.
Challange to America Means Battle for Her Youth

by JAMES H. DUEY

Our experience in the past 10 years, as we listen to the voices of our students and as we listen to the voices of those whom we teach, is that it is the war heaven prayer for peace, that prayer which is basic to every declaration of independence and every national anthem of the peoples of the world. This prayer for peace is not like the prayer of the child who asks to be fed. The word "peace" means different to us, and even entirely different to the minds of the young of today. We know that the peace we want is the peace of the world...the peace of God. And we know that to the young, the young of today, the peace of God is the only peace that can ever bring real security, or allow the young to live in freedom, with hope for the future...

Union Prayer for the UN

The following prayer was adopted in 1971 by the Young Men's Christian Association in the United States and was published in the Book of Common Prayer for Y.M.C.A. on its 150th anniversary. It is based on the idea that prayer for peace is essential to the U.N. and its work, and that prayer is a basic human need, essential to the survival of every individual and society.

PROVIDING A PRAYER — Dr. Bernard H. Grandell, then secretary of the Y.M.C.A., was asked by the president of the Y.M.C.A. in the United States, to provide a prayer for the United Nations. He provided a prayer that was adopted by the Y.M.C.A. and published in its 150th anniversary book. It is a prayer for peace, and for the renewal of the way of life that is essential to all people of the world. We believe that this prayer is a powerful and effective tool for promoting peace, and we hope that it will be used by individuals and organizations around the world.

Newark, Paterson Plan Youth Week Programs

NEWARK — "Sacred and Holy," the theme for the 7th National Catholic Youth Week, was observed Oct. 28, 29, throughout the Newark Archdiocese and in the Paterson Diocese.

The usual extolling of the virtues of Catholic youth and their role in building a Christian society will be emphasized, as well as an emphasis on the role of the family and religious community.

In Newark, a Holy Hour, an industry competition, and the start of the 15th Annual Catholic Youth Week in the public schools, and in Paterson, a dinner, victory parade, and a Film Festival, will all coincide with the theme of the week.

Among America's many causes of concern, the greatest is youth as people. This is true for the youth of St. Anthony's Church, and for all the Catholic Children's organizations on the 15th anniversary of the Catholic Youth Week.

I hope that this year, we can see and reap the benefits of doing everything possible to preserve our youth by giving them opportunities, love, education, and other advantages through a vigorous program of legislation and, for a program, I urge you to give serious thought to the matter of the benefits from any level here.

As a member of the National Development Council, as a trustee of the Catholic Children's Foundation, as chairman of the National Labor Council, the Council's youth organizations, and as a friend of the youth, I am proud to stand at the helm of this program and to speak for the millions of children who have been the proverbial 'pride and joy' of America.

Second Seven Conference to Produce Showdown Between DePaul, Valley Elevens

HACKETTSTOWN -- Paul Birkmeyer's all-state lineman, who will be playing for a third time in the annual tournament between DePaul and Valley High Schools here Saturday, is expected to be among a string of star linemen in the big contest.

The game, which has been billed as the four-year-old conference's biggest event, will be played at Hackettstown's Municipal Stadium.

In the nine meetings between the schools, DePaul has won three, Valley two, and three have ended in ties.

Birkmeyer, who was also an All-State lineman for DePaul in 1959 and 1960, will be playing in his third conference game.

He is expected to face a tough challenge from Valley's all-state 300-pound tackle, who will be listed as 325 pounds.

The game is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Pirate Booters

By GRANT ELLIS

DePaul High School's gridiron machine rolled over the teams of the Interscholastic League and the Barnard Prep School Saturday to win the last round of the Interscholarstic League.

The victory gave the Booters a 7-2 season record and a 15-4-1 lifetime record.

The Booters are expected to meet St. Joseph today in a game for which they have prepared two weeks.

The game is scheduled for 1 p.m. at Hackettstown's Municipal Stadium.

Regrets Governor’s Veto of Obscenity Bill

Governor Vetoed the New Jersey law to ban obscenity in movies, theater, and literature, which would have made New Jersey the first state to pass such legislation. Despite the Governor's opposition, the New Jersey Legislature passed the bill, but Governor James J. F. Hughes vetoed it. However, on October 25, 1932, the Governor reversed his decision and signed the bill into law.

In his veto message, the Governor stated that he had originally vetoed the bill because it would be unwise to ban such activities without considering the possibility of a constitutional challenge. He noted that the Supreme Court of the United States had already ruled in a case involving Pennsylvania that it is constitutionally permissible for states to regulate obscenity in films.

The Governor also emphasized the importance of freedom of the press, noting that any attempt to preserve it would be thwarted by such legislation. He stated that the only way to protect freedom of the press is to ensure that it is not infringed upon by any other form of communication.

The Governor's decision to sign the bill into law, despite his initial veto, was widely hailed as a victory for free speech and civil liberties.
