Hopes, Fears, Prayers: World Sits Out a Crisis

November—for the Dead

Hopes, fears, prayers: World sits out a crisis.

Social Justice Role Cited To Catholic Peace Group

VATICAN CITY — Vatican—Pope John appealed to world leaders to do all they can for peace in a two-pronged message.

In an interview with the Associated Press, the pope said, "The need for Catholic peace group is a need for peace itself."

He added, "I am not talking about a spiritual employment of others, about the use of religion to influence events. I am talking about the religious necessity of working for peace."

The interview was conducted by Vatican Secretary of State, Cardinal Giovanni Battista Montini, who also expressed the pope's concern about the "thunderbolts of war" and the "tremendous burden of the arms race."

Council Liturgy Debate Continues

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Supreme Court heard arguments today on whether the federal government can constitutionally tax the income of religious hospitals, schools and other nonprofit organizations.

No Quick Ruling On School Prayer

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that it will not issue a ruling on the constitutionality of school prayer until after the November election.

Catholics throughout the world, however, have been treated brutally high at North Jersey's Bishop Robert H. Bayard of Paterson, New Jersey, said in a interview that the situation in the nation "is extremely serious."

The bishop, who is a member of the U.S. Catholic Conference, said that "the situation in the country is comparable to that in other areas of the world."

The Archbishop of Chicago, Cardinal William H. Agency, said in a statement that "the United States is facing a crisis that is comparable to that in other areas of the world."

The statement was made in response to a recent United Nations report that said that the United States was "The world must be prepared to face the crisis."

The United States is the only country in the world that has not been involved in a war since the end of World War II. However, the United States is the only country in the world that has not been involved in a war since the end of World War II.

Pope Appoints 90 To Commissions

VATICAN CITY, March 11—Pope Pius XI appointed to the 90 commissions for the Council 85 Roman bishops, four foreign bishops, a priest from Switzerland and a Jesuit priest. The Pope's appointment came after a long and detailed discussion of the matter by the Council.

Birth Control Plan

CHICAGO — Officials of the Illinois Public Aid Commission have filed a suit to prevent the state from continuing to provide birth control consulting services to pregnant women. The suit was filed by the civic group the John Birch Society in Chicago.

Mary Hesse, who chairs the group, said the suit was filed to "protect the moral rights of all citizens." The suit charges that the state is violating its own constitution by providing the services.

The suit was filed in the Cook County Circuit Court and asks that the court issue an injunction preventing the state from providing the services.

The suit was prompted by a report that the state was providing the services to pregnant women who requested them.

The suit alleges that the state is violating its own constitution by providing the services.

The suit was filed in response to a recent state law that allows pregnant women to receive birth control services from state health clinics.

Holy Souls

The "Feast" of All Souls on Nov. 2 is perhaps the most familiar of all the Christian observances, and yet it is one of the least known. This is not so surprising, for the Church gives its name to such observances only, in the usual sense. The Church gives us the name of All Hallows, but not All the Dead. The Church is not disposed to be lavish with names, and it is perhaps also true that the Church is not disposed to be lavish with observances.

Holy Souls is a day observed by the Catholic Church for the holy souls in purgatory. Just as we commemorate and honor our deceased on May 30 and by the virtues of which they have gained a pledge of their entrance to heaven, so do we pray for those who have suffered the pains of purgatory, that they may have a share in the glory of heaven, and that the Church is present in the prayers and sacrifices of the faithful, and gains an additional merit for their release from purgatory. It is a day of penance and prayer.

Holy Souls are those souls who have died men who have been justly condemned to purgatory. The souls of the Just, who have been justly condemned to purgatory, are known as Holy Souls. The souls of the Just are those who have died men who have been justly condemned to purgatory. The souls of the Just, who have been justly condemned to purgatory, are known as Holy Souls.

"Creative" Ideas Not All Laity's

BY REV. ANDREW H. HEELEY

Father Colley is reading the column where Mother Breslow gives a tongue in cheek review of the Yellow Council:

A tailor from another place, a tailor with not a little sense of humor, and bound to certain manner of dress, it is said, was witness before the court that there were essentials of a proper tailor, type, and classification, and an intelligence. Speaking of the tailor, the court, not belittled as such, is a suitable object of a tailor was declared a "hand of devilish bad" risk of making inappropriate clothing. The tailor, Mr. Colley, said he would be the last to deny that some of the tailor's goods (and by people) give the impression of things, but that the document read was the same one delighted himself.

ON THE OTHER hand, I am not the most exacting in the American Catholic Church. I see that there are particular group of suitors who, according to the usual notice of his congregation, who are not the kind of people who have done so in other capacities, and a list of distinguished people known to be familiar with the church's gospel in its own.

God Love You

Works of God

—And of Man

BY BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

The Lord is not only with us, but in us. We are disposed daily with much difficulty and suffering. We are disposed daily to work and suffer and to be served and to be helped. The Lord is not only with us, but in us. We are disposed daily with much difficulty and suffering. We are disposed daily to work and suffer and to be served and to be helped.

Those who serve

Christ and the Church must serve the Church. Whatever is, see to it the sick are served, the unfortunate and the soul are served, the devils and the poor are served. Those who serve the Church must serve the Church. Whatever is, see to it the sick are served, the unfortunate and the soul are served, the devils and the poor are served.
All the Women Elizabeth Seton Was

BY WILLIAM H. MOORING

Films about saints often do not evoke the same feeling as do the personal stories and biographies of real people. This is especially true in the case of the American saint who is the subject of the film "Elizabeth Seton." The story of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton is both touching and inspiring, and the film does justice to it.

The film opens with a scene of St. Elizabeth's childhood, showing her as a young girl living in a wealthy home. The story then moves to her youth, where she becomes involved with the Catholic Church and eventually marries a wealthy man named William Seton.

However, her life as a wife and mother is not satisfying to her, and she begins to seek a deeper spiritual life. She eventually decides to become a nun and founds the Sisters of Charity, a religious order dedicated to serving the poor and the sick.

The film focuses on the story of Elizabeth's journey as a nun, showing her struggles and triumphs. It is a moving story, and the film does an excellent job of capturing the spirit of St. Elizabeth's life.

In conclusion, the film "Elizabeth Seton" is a touching and inspiring story of a woman who dedicated her life to serving others. It is a film that will appeal to anyone interested in the life of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton and the history of the Catholic Church.

The Time Is Now In Latin America, Missioner Warns

By ED GRANT

BLOOMFIELD — “South America is not a mission field any more. Father Brendan J. Conroy of Boston, Father P. Bruy of Paris, Father John V. Recon of New York, and Father Marcellus Hauser of Philadelphia are now centrally concerned with the problem of Latin American missions.”

But Father Recon, who decided to leave his position as director of the Roman Catholic Church mission in Managua, Nicaragua, for a permanent home in New York, is convinced that this is but a step toward the formation of a world-wide Latin American mission fund. He was speaking at a dinner for Father Conroy, who is now in New York for a brief visit.

The Human Choice: We Love or We Die

By Joseph A. Berg

In my husband’s mind it was difficult and sudden to realize that his life was to be so short, and I think that it was a trial to my patience that it was not to my advantage that his life was to be so short. But when I realized that his life was to be so short, I think that it was a trial to my patience that it was not to my advantage that his life was to be so short."

Nutley Journalist Takes Clear Look at Latin Woes

By Perry Costello

Nutley-Where Mary McGee Cusick, a journalist who has been writing about Latin America and other areas for more than 20 years, began a new series of articles on Latin America this week in the New Jersey Herald.

The series, which will run bi-monthly, is called “The Inland South American.” It will focus on the political, social, and economic developments in the region, with particular emphasis on the countries of Brazil, Argentina, and Chile.

The series will cover a wide range of topics, including the role of the United Nations in the region, the implications of the energy crisis for Latin America, and the impact of globalization on the region’s economies.

The first article, published on May 1, 1989, is titled “The Inland South American: Brazil.” It discusses the country’s political and economic situation, including the recent elections and the role of the multinational corporations in the country.

The series is a valuable resource for anyone interested in understanding the complex issues facing Latin America today. It provides a detailed and nuanced analysis of the region’s challenges, and offers insights into the policies and strategies that are being developed to address them.

The series will be published bi-monthly, and can be found in the New Jersey Herald. It is available online at http://newjerseyherald.com/nutley-journalist-takes-clear-look-at-latin-woes/.

Freeholders Responsible For Providing And Maintaining Efficient County Government Within Tax Revenues

Newark, November 2

"The people of Essex County not only have the right but also the desire to know the disposition of the money they pay in taxes. So states James L. McKenna, director of the Essex County board of freeholders who, in keeping with this governing body's established policy of making informative reports to the public has made available the accompanying chart for the information of all county taxpayers.

The chart illustrates how every county tax dollar has been portioned to make it as far as possible in providing the many essential services required to properly administer the affairs of the county.

The board, according to Mr. McKenna, has received numerous requests from county residents for just such a report as contained in the expenditure analysis chart. As director, he has been chosen to speak for this fine group of freeholders in expressing thanks to the people of Essex for their interest in the important work performed by all the members of the board in their efforts to consistently provide and maintain the best possible county government at all times.

Mr. McKenna further stated that the board wants to assure all the people of Essex that the Freeholders recognize and appreciate the interest of the public in all the functions of the county and will continue to make periodic reports to them in the press throughout the county.
