(8) A small number of Supplemental Handouts to be supplied; and

(9) The Rome Statute (ICC Treaty). You are to download a copy of the statute and have it available at each class for referrals to same. The statute is available at the ICC website . You can print the statute and keep the hardcopy with you or download it to a laptop that you plan on having in class with you. You can also obtain the Rome Statute at .

We expect you to bring all material to each class and to keep up with the assigned reading. It is also required that you read the New York Times each day. It is available free of charge online at “International” section.

A Note About Class Requirements

We reserve the right to have a Midterm Exam, Final Exam, and, depending on the final number of students in class, a required in-class oral presentation with or without written materials/exhibits, each of which will constitute some portion of your grade. A Final Paper is OPTIONAL. An additional consideration for your final grade will be based on attendance and the quality of your class participation. The schedule of readings and class discussion topics follows. However, start reading the Power and Gourievitch (read entire volume for the class as a great introduction to the structure and issues concerning Ad Hoc Tribunals) books NOW. Purchase/Order your binder from the bookstore NOW by going there or online at www.shu.bkstr.com so that you can begin the CLASS 1 reading.

A Note for Students with Disabilities
If you have a documented disability, or think you might have one, you may be eligible for accommodations in academic classes, the residence halls, food service areas, etc., under the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. Disabilities may include those that are permanent or temporary and include, but are not limited to: learning disabilities, ADHD, medical issues, psychological or psychiatric problems, limited mobility, low vision or blindness, and hearing impairments. Students are not permitted to negotiate accommodations directly with professors. To receive special accommodations or assistance, please self-identify at the Office for Disability Support Services (DSS), Duffy Hall, Room 67 at the beginning of the semester. For more information or to register for services, contact Linda Walter, Director of DSS, at (973) 313-6003.

ROME STATUTE FOR THE ICC

Read the following sections of the Rome Statute [in bold print]

Re OTP v Bashir: These are the references to specific articles of the Rome Statute that are found in the ICC website's description of the charges against the Sudanese President.

Article 58

The warrants of arrest for Al Bashir list ten counts on the basis of his individual criminal responsibility under Article 25(3)(a) of the Rome Statute as an indirect (co) perpetrator including:

- five counts of crimes against humanity: murder - Article 7(1)(a); extermination - Article 7(1)(b); forcible transfer - Article 7(1)(d); torture - Article 7(1)(f); and rape - Article 7(1)(g);

- two counts of war crimes: intentionally directing attacks against a civilian population as such or against individual civilians not taking part in hostilities - Article 8(2)(e)(i); and pillaging - Article 8(2)(e)(v).

- Three counts of genocide: genocide by killing (article 6-a), genocide by causing serious bodily or mental harm (article 6-b) and genocide by deliberately inflicting on each target group conditions of life calculated to bring about the group's physical destruction (article 6-c).
Re OTP v Lubanga-Counts

M. Lubanga is allegedly responsible, as co-perpetrator, of war crimes consisting of:

- Enlisting and conscripting of children under the age of 15 years into the Forces patriotiques pour la libération du Congo [Patriotic Forces for the Liberation of Congo] (FPLC) and using them to participate actively in hostilities in the context of an international armed conflict from early September 2002 to 2 June 2003 (punishable under article 8(2)(b)(xxvi) of the Rome Statute);

- Enlisting and conscripting children under the age of 15 years into the FPLC and using them to participate actively in hostilities in the context of an armed conflict not of an international character from 2 June 2003 to 13 August 2003 (punishable under article 8(2)(e)(vii) of the Rome Statute).
