Cardinal Wyszynski

The election of Wyszynski would be a major event in the Church's history and would have significant implications for the future of the Church and for the world.

Holy Father's Letter Commemorates Work of SS. Cyril and Methodius

The Lenten Preceding the 12th Sunday of Ordinary Time is dedicated to the memory of the two apostles, SS. Cyril and Methodius (827-869), the brothers of Slavonic origin who together with their followers spread the Christian faith in the Slav countries. The Ukrainian Catholic Church, which is one of the faithful followers of this missionary fervor, celebrated this feast in the basilica of Saints Cyril and Methodius in Kyiv. For this reason, the letter of Pope John Paul II is of great importance to Ukrainians. The Pontiff, in this letter, asked all nations to celebrate the Feast of Saints Cyril and Methodius, which is celebrated on June 28, and the Church in Ukraine, after consultation with the Holy See, has already decided to celebrate this feast in the basilica of Saints Cyril and Methodius in Kyiv.

The letter of Pope John Paul II is also important for the Ukrainian Church because it is a document that has been issued by a Pope who is revered by the Ukrainian people. The Pontiff, in this letter, expressed his appreciation for the work of Saints Cyril and Methodius and encouraged all nations to continue their missionary work.

Shortage and Surplus

There is a shortage of priests and religious in the Church in America, particularly in the Northeast. Many dioceses and religious congregations are reporting a growing need for priests in countries where there are surplus situations. This is the reason for this surplus.

Many priests find it necessary to move from one diocese to another to meet this shortage. The shortage is not only due to the death of priests but also to the retirement and transfer of priests to other areas.

The shortage is particularly severe in the Northeast, where the population is growing rapidly. The number of priests needed to meet the spiritual needs of the faithful is not keeping pace with the increase in population.

The shortage of priests is also exacerbated by the fact that many priests are leaving the ministry to pursue other careers or to seek better living conditions.

Everybody's an 'Expert'

Four years ago the concept of an ecclesiastical council was so strange and so revolutionary that it was laughed at and held up to ridicule as a dream of the past. Today, the Holy Spirit is at work to heal the divisions within the Church and to make it strong again.

The Church is being renewed, and the role of the laity is becoming more important than ever before. The laity is being called to participate more actively in the life of the Church and to be involved in its decisions.

One Minute to Midnight

An American business executive with a name that is not pronounceable in Latin America has been elected to the Vatican's highest council, in a surprise move that will affect the lives of all those within the Church's orbit.

The election of the new cardinal, who is not a member of the College of Cardinals, has been described as a turning point in the Church's history. The new cardinal, who is not yet known, is expected to have a significant impact on the Church's direction.

Jesus Preaches In the Synagogues

We think of our Lord pre- empting the Law before his death. But we must never forget that the Law itself taught that Law never died. And, so far as we know, there is no record of Jesus' Law that he negated some new after another.

Now, the Pergamum text is revised. But, in the first place, to pretend to interpret the New Testament is to impose a definitive declaration of its higher law, and resolutions not yet arrived at is to claim the essence of the Church's scriptural order, the duty of praying for them in the council, and more specifically, on the need of a new campaign, for we can all be at work in the same intent, every one of us having been made to an equal one of the Holy Order.

Change of Heart on School Aid?

Editor:

The one-year limit on the provision of funds to the National Capital Area for public school aid will end in 1975. This is a step in the right direction in keeping with President Reagan's policy of reducing federal aid to the states.

Response to your message from the New York Times.

My reaction to this news was one of disappointment that our elected officials at the national level have failed to understand the basic need for federal aid in education.

Migrant Labor
And P.L. 78

By WILLIAM M. HELEN

Director, Social Action Dept., NCFW

The number of farm workers is growing rapidly. This is caused by the demand for labor in the agricultural sector.

In P.L. 78, the federal government set up a program to provide assistance to agricultural workers. This program was created to help provide a better living standard for the workers.

A BRACERO facility located in Arizona can provide work for as many as 50,000 workers. This is a significant contribution to the economy of the state.

However, the program has not been fully implemented. The funds allocated for the program have not been used efficiently. This is a cause for concern.

In conclusion, the program to provide assistance to agricultural workers is crucial. It is essential to ensure that these workers are provided with a decent living standard.

A weed is a plant. The word "weed" is used to describe plants that are unwanted or unsightly. The word "rich" is used to describe people who have a lot of money.

In North America, the word "rich" is often associated with wealth and power. However, the word "rich" can also be used to describe a person who is content and happy with their life.

As a person who has worked in the agricultural sector for many years, I have seen the impact of the program to provide assistance to agricultural workers. I believe that the program has made a significant difference in the lives of these workers.

In conclusion, I urge you to consider the impact of the program to provide assistance to agricultural workers. It is essential to ensure that these workers are provided with a decent living standard.

PLAIN TALK
for the newly "elected"
FATHER OF THE BRIDE

"You're supposed to be the dad," said my daughter.
"But I AM the dad."
No, she's right. I'm not the dad. I'm the father.

The bride and groom should be helped without rubbing their noses with who's who and what's what. It should be a case of "Welcome to the family!"

The bride and groom's two families are also, in a way, "elected". I'm afraid that's the way it works.

I'm going to write about the wedding in the sense of a Dad who understands and understands.

The wedding is a day
when all the family comes together. It's not a day to show off or prove to anyone that you have the best family.

It's a day to enjoy
each other's company, towhelmingly, and to remember the love
and the joy of the experience.

A Day
To Bless
Teachers
By ANNE C. RICKERT

CHICAGO—A group of thousands of Catholics throughout the city gathered for the annual "To Bless Teachers" prayer meeting at Holy Name Cathedral this year.

This is the 56th annual event, and it is sponsored by the Chicago Federation of Catholic Teachers in cooperation with the Diocese of Chicago.

The program included a prayer service, a presentation of gifts to the teachers, and a message of appreciation from the teachers to their students.

Mr. John J. Flinn, executive director of the Federation, said that the event is "a way to show our appreciation for the hard work and dedication of our teachers." He added that the teachers are "the backbone of our society."

Bishop Ford Became A Martyr in China

TO FAR PLACES, by Eva S. Dodge, Louisa, Harcourt, 188 pages.

M. W. was the first candidate of the Roman Catholic seminary and was lost in the white armor of the Jesuits.

The story is one that should travel the world. It is a protest against the inner and outer of the modern church. It is a protest against the Jesuitical philosophy. Bishop Ford went to China to become a Jesuit. When he died, the Jesuits found that he was a Jesuit in all the world.

It was taken by the Jesuitical order with his one companion, Brother John Reardon. M. W. through the streets of China. As a prisoner he was taken to a Jesuitical foreigner. He was treated very well and left the Jesuitical order.

The story of Ford shows that the Jesuitical order is only religious in name. They treat the Jesuitical order as if it were a Jesuitical organization. The Jesuitical order is not religious in fact.
