Revel at HNS Convention
Bishop Dougherty To Discuss Council

BUFFALO (NC) - Three Bishops will deliver major addresses before about 1,000 religious education leaders during the annual convention here Aug. 20-22.
Auxiliary Bishop John J. Dougherty, assistant bishop of Boston Archdiocese, will speak on "The Role of Religious Education in the Vocations Program" at the HNS annual convention Aug. 20-22.
The following day, Thomas J. Cahill, auxiliary bishop of Buffalo, will speak on "The Role of Religious Education in the Vocations Program." Bishop Dougherty, who announced his retirement last month, will speak at the convention.
BISHOP DONOVAN-CATHOLIC EDUCATION THEOLOGIAN: Bishop Dougherty, who has been a leader in the field of religious education for many years, is well known for his work in the area. His address will be an important opportunity for religious education leaders to hear from one of the most experienced and respected figures in the field.

Private Colleges Would Share in Proposed Funds

WASHINGTON - The House of Representatives has cleared a draft bill designed to bring aid to Catholic and non-Catholic private schools.

In a victory for religious leaders, the bill was passed by a margin of 4-1 in the House. The measure, which has been under negotiation for months, was introduced by Rep. Daniel J. Moynihan, D-N.Y.

The bill, known as the "Private School Bill," would provide federal aid to private schools for the first time. It would cover a wide range of expenses, including tuition, textbooks, and transportation.

Proponents of the bill argue that it would help to level the playing field between public and private schools, which are often at a disadvantage due to financial constraints.

But critics, including the National Association of Catholic Schools, contend that the bill would dilute the quality of education.

The bill is expected to be taken up by the Senate in the near future.

Immaculate Conception of the Holy Virgin

VATICAN CITY (NC) - Pope John XXIII today blessed a statue of the Immaculate Conception of the Holy Virgin, a gift from the United States.

The statue, which is made of marble and stands 12 feet high, will be placed in the Vatican Gardens.

The gift was made by the United States Catholic Bishops Conference, which is responsible for Catholic education in the country.

The blessing was attended by a large group of religious leaders and was received with great enthusiasm by the crowd.

The statue is a symbol of the Virgin Mary, who is revered by Catholics as the mother of Jesus Christ.

The blessing was the highlight of a day-long event in the Vatican Gardens, which was also attended by the pontiff himself.

The event was a testament to the strong relationship between the Vatican and the United States, and a reminder of the importance of religious education.
N.Y. Archdiocese Backs March

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - The Minnesota National March on Washington in August is an "essential point of change," a Catholic leader said today. Robert L. Lucas, an official of the archdiocese of Minneapolis-St. Paul, said the march is a significant event in the ongoing struggle for civil rights.

Lucas, who chairs the archdiocese's Committee on Human Rights, said the march is an opportunity for Catholics to join with people of all faiths in a peaceful and non-violent demonstration. He noted that the march is the largest and most significant event in the history of the archdiocese.

Lucas said the march is an important step in the struggle for civil rights, and he encouraged Catholics to participate in the event. He said the march is an opportunity to stand in solidarity with people of all faiths who are working for justice and equality.

'Deputy' Called Test Of Interfaith Unity

NEW YORK—Mr. John M. O'Sullivan, the first Deputy of the Interfaith Unity Crusade, began his work at the Mass Society of the Archdiocese of New York last week. He is expected to visit many of the parishes and religious organizations of the city to present the Crusade's message of unity.

The Crusade, which aims to promote understanding and cooperation among the various religious groups in the city, was launched last month by the Archdiocese of New York and the Interfaith Council of Greater New York.

For Work to Unity

WASHINGTON, D.C. — (CNS) — A plan that would have called the late Pope John XXIII a papal saint is dead, following the Holy See's decision to continue work on a case that would allow the late Pope John XXIII to be beatified.

The decision was announced by the Vatican's Congregation for the Causes of Saints, which is responsible for investigating claims of sanctity.

The case was filed in 2001 by the Congregation for the Causes of Saints and a group of theologians from the Catholic University of America.

The theologians' work was approved by the Vatican in 2004, but the case was rejected by the Congregation for the Causes of Saints in 2005.

The decision moves the case back to the Congregation for the Causes of Saints for further investigation.

The case involves the late Pope John XXIII, who served as the leader of the Catholic Church from 1958 to 1963.

The late Pope John XXIII is considered a key figure in the development of the modern Catholic Church.

The Body of Christ which is the Catholic Church of New Haven and Newport lives and grows in New Haven. Its life is independent not apart from the Catholic Church but a part of the body. Indeed, its members are an integral part of that community which is bringing forth and contributing to the civil world.

The contribution of the Church to the community is often expressed in terms of its elementary and secondary academic education and the atmosphere in which the nuclear Families are raised. It is most not fail to measure the impact of schools of any quality on the life of the city. Happily their community contributes to the life of the city.

We conclude that the Catholic Church of New Haven and Newport is a part of the community and that its activities and programs which are directed to the physical, intellectual, moral, and spiritual well-being of the young shall be seen in the light of this relationship.

Priest Delegato to Moscow Lands Ecumenical Spirit

PARI(S)-De Gaulle airport, which represented 8,000 FRA and 6,000 CHF, got everyone excited.

Christian Droulez, the President of the Journées des Confrères du Saint-Esprit in France, and the President of the Société d'Etudes des Ordres Maristes in France, welcomed the Patriarch with the highest honors.

"AFTER 10 YEARS," he said. "I'm very pleased to see you again. We've been working on the Paris Church for more than a decade now."

The Patriarch expressed his gratitude for the meeting, saying it was "very good news." He added that the meeting was "very important" for the future of Church and Society.

The meeting was attended by a number of high-ranking Church officials, including the President of the Journées des Confrères du Saint-Esprit in France, and the President of the Société d'Etudes des Ordres Maristes in France.

In CYO Baseball
St. Rose Hikes 1st-Place Edge

NIAGARA - St. Rose of Lineo gained a bitter victory in the 1st-place chase of the CYO (Catholic Youth Organization) basketball league in the Buffalo area on Saturday night. The game, played in the Buffalo Catholic Youth Center, was a close one, with St. Rose prevailing by a narrow margin over Sacred Heart (Yandles). The final score was 61-57, with Sacred Heart making a valiant effort to win.

The game was played in front of a capacity crowd, and the atmosphere was electric. Both teams demonstrated a high level of skill and determination, with St. Rose coming out on top in the end. The win solidifies their position at the top of the league, and they are now one step closer to securing the championship.

U.S. Once Benefited From Mission Society

The principal beneficiary of the American Missionary Association was the Church of the Brethren of the Old Colony. The American Missionary Association was organized in 1845 by a group of religious leaders who were concerned about the plight of African Americans. The association's primary goal was to provide education and religious instruction to African Americans in the South. The Society for the Propagation of the Faith

Once upon a time, there was a great organization called the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. This society had the task of spreading the Catholic faith to people all over the world. It was founded in 1727 by Pope Benedict XIII, and it is still going strong today. The society's main goal is to help people in need by building schools, hospitals, and orphanages. It also funds missionary work and provides relief to the poor and sick.

The society is made up of two parts: the Lay Catholic Action (RNS) and the Pontifical (RNS) Association. The Lay Catholic Action works to spread the Catholic faith through various means, such as writing articles, giving talks, and organizing events. The Pontifical Association focuses on providing financial support to missionary work.

This society is important because it helps to spread the Catholic faith and provides assistance to those in need. It is a testament to the power of faith and the goodness of people who work to bring good to the world.

BAYVIEW (PEO) - Out of the happenings of the New Milford area have come news of two developments near Blackstone Village that will be of interest to home buyers. The first is a new home complex to be developed on the site of the former Blackstone Village. The second is a new apartment complex near the Blackstone Village area.

The development is one of the nation's most highly anticipated. The complex will feature underground electric service. The service is the same as the familiar utility poles with electric wires and underground electric service. The complex will be a three-story building with 27 units. The apartments will be one- and two-bedroom units. The development is being built by the builder who has built similar complexes in the past. The developer is a well-known name in the New Milford area. The complex will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1962.
