Predicts 4-1 Vote for Liberty Text

BY ANDREW BRYAN

URUGUAY, South America (AP) - In perhaps the most misunderstood country at the third session of the 1961 InterAmerican Conference on Human Rights, the 18-member council will pass its own 4-1 vote for the liberty text. The council, mixed up in a debate between the 10-member council that has passed the same motions and resolutions for the past two years, will be pulling up its sleeves to deal with two major issues: the political situation in Uruguay and the problem of the Catholic Church's position on land reform.

The council, which represents the United States, is divided into two main groups: the 10-member council that has passed the same motions for the past two years, and the 8-member council that has passed the same motions for the past two years. The two groups are divided over the issue of the Catholic Church's position on land reform.

The council will hold a meeting in Uruguay on the political situation in the country, and will also consider the issue of the Catholic Church's position on land reform. The council will also consider the issue of the Catholic Church's position on land reform.

Catholic Life Weakening Under North Vietnam

By REV. PETER C. O'CONNOR, S.C.

Amidst the dynamic changes in the world of Catholic education, one of the most significant trends that has received little attention is the diminishing strength of Catholic elementary schools in the United States. This decline is not due to a lack of enrollments or financial difficulties, but rather to a comprehensive strategy by the Viet Cong to undermine the values and principles that the Catholic schools represent.

The Viet Cong has realized that the Catholic schools are not only a source of education for the children of the South, but also a center for the propagation of Catholic values and principles. They have therefore targeted the Catholic schools as a strategic objective in their campaign to undermine the influence of Catholicism in the region.

To achieve this goal, the Viet Cong has employed a variety of tactics, including the dissemination of propaganda, the recruitment of students and teachers, and the provision of financial assistance to Catholic schools. These tactics have had a significant impact on the strength of the Catholic schools in the region.

In conclusion, the Catholic schools in the United States should recognize the threat posed by the Viet Cong and take proactive steps to counteract their efforts. This includes increasing the importance of Catholic education in the curriculum, providing financial assistance to students and teachers, and strengthening the bonds between the Catholic schools and the community.
The Fenst of St. Joseph the Worker, inaugurated by Pope Pius XII in 1955, is celebrated on May 31. The Church uses this day to focus attention on the central mission we have to strive principled and consecrated service in our present socioeconomic order.

Getting What We Deserve

The image that the totalitarian idea of work is often that of a grinding giant with a person who has revealed his potential for good—a good entertainment, good education, and better wages.

The blame for much of what is present and of the industry’s own doorstep. Mr. Minow’s message is clear, and I believe, that at right it will prevail.

Its MAIN INTEREST— it would seem to me that the interest is to make money. Its prime function—is to survive. However, it would be irrelevant to blame only the industry for the hardships people are forced to endure. It is the people, not the money, that is the problem.

The root of the problem is the failure of man to see what he is doing and to take responsibility for the consequences of his actions.

The Transfiguration—Dead Land of Salvation

By FRANK J. MEED

At Converse Phillip's Our Lady of Peace, and on the World's Day of Peace and the Pope's return to his home, the Catholic Church celebrates the Feast of the Transfiguration. The Transfiguration, a day of rejoicing, commemorates the revelation of the divine glory of Christ to Peter, James, and John on the Mount of Transfiguration.

For Vocations

For the priest, the brothers and sisters of the religious orders, the work of the Church is to present the Gospel message in a life of prayer, work, and witness. The Church seeks to discern and enable the gifts and talents of individuals to flourish.

Since the Transfiguration, the Church has been called to share in the sufferings of Christ and to offer its life as a sacrifice for the salvation of the world. The Church is the Body of Christ on earth, called to be witnesses of his love and mercy. The Church is a community of faith, a community of love, a community of service.

The Church is called to be a living icon of the love of God, a living voice of the Gospel, and a living expression of the divine will. The Church is called to be a sign of unity, a sign of hope, and a sign of the presence of God in the world.

Letters to the Editor

Dr. Patrick Brady, in his Oct. 12, 1964, column on Catholic education, writes: "Education is the birthright of every child." The young man in the corner who is to beculdren soon as other children. In fact, the right to education is enshrined in the Constitution of the United States. Thus, the right to education is a birthright.

He has Motives Besides Racism

It is said that Bishop Hippolytus of Rome was asked the reason for his conflict with the Emperor. He replied, "To save the faith of the world, or to procure a civil constitution for the Church, or both." The Church has always been the protector of the faith and the dispenser of spiritual freedom.

One of the greatest challenges of our time is to provide education for all children. This is not just a matter of personal freedom, but of the common good. The education of the young is the foundation upon which a just and peaceful society is built.

Theologians Debate "The Pill"

While accepting the Church's authority, its leaders could not defeat the intrinsic contradiction of artificial contraception. It was a matter of principle. The Pope, the head of the Church, could not ask for an "interpretative change." "When authority is accepted, there must be some kind of accommodation," said a Vatican official. "This cannot be done now as it would change the Church's position on the issue." The Pope, Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger, has said that contraception is a moral issue and can be accepted within the Church's teaching. The Church's position is that contraception is intrinsically immoral.

Any price paid for health care protection may seem excessive if the protection is never needed. But to the victim of accident or illness it can be a lifesaver. In the next 20 years, 25,000,000 New Jerseyans will die. Most of them will never need to face the possibility of being thrown to the wolves. But you had better be sure your investments are sound. If you do not, you may be taken to the cleaners by the insurance company.

I am referring to the health insurance protection you have purchased in the last year. If you bought a policy that was not worth your money, you could be in big trouble.

The health insurance industry is not what it was 10 years ago. The rates have increased to the point where it is no longer possible for the average family to afford the protection.

There are many factors that determine whether a policy is worth your money. One of these is the way in which the insurance company handles claims. Many companies will not pay out the full amount of the claim because they believe that the policyholder is not entitled to it. This is unfair and unjust.

Another factor is the way in which the insurance company sets its rates. If the rates are too high, you may not be able to afford the protection. If the rates are too low, you may not be sure that you will get the protection you need.

We recommend that you shop around for the best policy that meets your needs. You should compare the rates of different companies and read the policies carefully.

If you are not sure of the terms of your policy, you should consult with an attorney. An attorney can help you understand the fine print and make sure that you are getting the protection you need.

We hope that you will take the time to read this article and consider the implications of the health insurance industry. It is an important issue that affects every family.

Spring: A Thing Called Happiness

by Rush M. Butler

What is spring? Spring is the lovely time of the year at the church door. It is the season when the church door opens and the warm, fresh air blows in. It is the season when the church is decorated with beautiful flowers and the church bell rings. It is the season when the church is filled with people of all ages, and the church service is joyful and uplifting. Spring is a time of renewal and rebirth, a time to celebrate the beauty of nature and the hope it brings.

The MARVEL and thrill of spring! just doesn't happen in Oklahoma. We have a little bit of a different climate here. But spring is still a wonderful time to enjoy the outdoors and appreciate the beauty of nature.

I hope you enjoyed this brief overview of spring. If you have any questions about spring or any other season, feel free to ask. I'm always happy to help. Thank you for reading and I wish you all the best.

Bergen Catholic Strong Favorite for Relay Title

St. ED KAVANAGH
NEW BRUNSWICK — Sixth-hole birdie in victory for Dave Molloy and the Panthers Tuesday night — a victory that will be somewhat bittersweet to Catholics. The Panthers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational. The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

The Flyers were overpowered at Philadelphia by the guest teams from St. Peter's and St. Peter's Cathedral, which won the meet 239-244.

Molloy, who has been named the top individual in the state by the NJSIAA, said: "We're going to give it our best shot. We're not just going to give up. We're going to go out there and win." The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

Bergen Catholic is sure to be a strong contender for the title, and its two top players, Dave Molloy and Tim Hayes, will be key players in the meet. The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

Bergen Catholic has a chance for victory in the meet with Molloy and Hayes, but the Flyers have a strong team as well. The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

Michael, who has made his mark in the state, said: "We're going to give it our best shot. We're not just going to give up. We're going to go out there and win." The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

Even Coach Tom Law, who has been mentored by his father, Coach Ed Law, said: "This is our chance to win it. We've been working for this all year." The Flyers, who were eliminated in the final round of the NJSIAA Group 3 meet, will also get another chance in the 34th Annual St. Peter's Invitational.

NEWARK — To give an idea of what the leaders in the summer's first outdoor track meet will have to do to win, it's necessary to figure back to last May when the track season ended.

Old Catholics—Their Origin

The word "Old Catholic" is used in a number of ways in the United States, including by a group of adherents to the Roman Catholic Church that ceased to be under papal jurisdiction and went its own way, or by a group of similar adherents to the Methodist Church that likewise went its own way. Joseph G. Dunlop has noted that the use of the word "Old Catholic" by either group stems from the fact that they originally adhered to theologies which the papal and episcopal hierarchies of the Roman Catholic Church and the Episcopal Church respectively regarded as heretical in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Another group of adherents, known as the Old Catholic Church, has been in existence since the early 19th century. After the formation of the Vatican Council in 1869, this group, along with others which had already been split from the Roman Catholic Church, came under the jurisdiction of Rome, and the terms "Old Catholic" and "Roman Catholic" have been used interchangeably ever since.

In the United States, the Old Catholic Church has come to be regarded as a group which is not a part of the Roman Catholic Church, but is rather a separate ecclesiastical body.

Shingle Quality Important

In choosing shingles, take quality as well as color into consideration. The heavier the weight, the higher the quality and the better the appearance will be. Asphalt shingles currently come in weights well over the 230-pounds per square minimum required by Underwriters Laboratories. A square is the amount of shingles required to cover 100 square feet.

Public Provides Plymouth Ideas

A Cherron-Carroll Release

UNION (PFS) - When Plymouth Homes built their quarter-million dollar home-o-rama on Route 22 here, Alvin Ross, president, visualized a custom building information center where the public could get ideas, information and data for planning their custom-built homes.

But he hardly expected the reverse to be true - that the public would flock to the home-o-rama and give Plymouth ideas for future homes.

"Actually," says Ross, "many of those people who've bought homes from us have come up with terrific ideas which we have our design and planning departments working on.

Among those many ideas are which Ross hopes to incorporate into future Plymouth homes is the incorporation of California sun-decks outside master bedroom suites. This idea is becoming more popular in the West and, according to Ross, can be included on Colonial, bi-level and split-level homes for a nominal cost.

One customer suggested that the room be partitioned off in the basement area for a sauna bath. Ross said that Plymouth is currently investigating the possibilities of actually incorporating the sauna into their higher priced line.

"Materials for use on walls and ceilings of the homes' interior have also come in for many consumer suggestions," says Ross.

He pointed out that as a result of home-o-rama and other consumer display centers, homeowners are becoming more aware of a variety of interior finishing materials.

A Keystone Release

JACKSON TWP. (PPS) — Construction is scheduled to start this week in the seventh and final segment of the Brookwood community in Jackson Township, where the original tract includes 1,200 homes.

The seventh segment offers 150 homes and Robert J. Schmertz, president of Rubin, Inc. of Lakewood, which is developing the community, notes that about half of them are sold. Late summer, and fall delivery dates are planned in this section.

OFFERED AT Brookwood are homes in ranch, Cape Cod, split-level, bi-level and two-story designs from $15,500 to $21,500. Included in the basic price of most models is air-conditioning, a fireplace and a package of eight major appliances.

Schmertz, who is creating Brookwood on property adjacent to the Lakeview Cabanas and Golf Club, is giving the homes on fully landscaped plots of 60 by 112 feet and larger in an area which has city sewer and water.

A Cresskill-Carroll Release

NORTH BRUNSWICK (PPS) — According to Philip Kruvant, co-developer of North Brunswick Village, today's well-educated and knowledgeable home buyer has a 10-point program which must be met by the successful home builder.

Kruvant said his marketing department queried 100 prospective purchasers at North Brunswick Village and an additional 200 families who had purchased homes at other tracts created by the Kruvant-Sodowick builder team, in an effort to find the "10 must-haves for a home and the surrounding community."

The 10 points stressed:

• Nearby shopping and recreation facilities
• Moderate property taxes
• Up-to-date appearance
• Private landscaping
• Close to schools
• Easy-to-keep-clean home
• Appliance-laden kitchens
• Quality insulation to cut heating costs
• Easy commutation
• Favorable down payment and mortgage terms
• Excellent resale potential.

"Right from the inception of our planning," he said, "we have aimed to satisfy these needs which are typical of the thinking of today's homebuyers."

"Where Nothing's Extra But Value"

Not just a home, but a hometown...

...this is the idea of Greenvicw Estates at Pequannock. A fine neighborhood right smack in the midst of a small and stable township. A friendly neighborhood you'll take right to heart. And a thriving circle of all these activities within Pequannock: 7 houses of worship, elementary schools - 5 public and 2 parochial and a new high school (with parochial high school in nearby Wayne)...a swimming lake and recreation area for the exclusive use of residents and guests...and excellent commuting to Newark and New York via buses and trains. Best of all, Pequannock has retained that very special flavor of the small, friendly town that you've always dreamed of settling into...and the Township's Master Plan calls for stable growth, moderate taxes, and preservation of its unique character.

Greenvicw Estates itself boasts some extraordinary advantages. Like a 30-acre park site right on the property. Like sanitary sewers and city water. Like its location near nearly-completed new Route 80. Like paved driveways, street lights, curbs, all utilities, and natural gas. And the cost for all this?

Just $19,250 is the starting price for homes at Greenvicw Estates for the four models shown at right. Each is set on a fully landscaped lot. Features include large "dine-in" kitchens with wall ovens, counter top ranges and exhaust hoods, paneled recreation rooms, one full and two half baths, 3 and 4 bedrooms, attached garages, basement, 100-amp electrical service with circuit breakers, full insulation, SANITARY SEWERS AND CITY WATER.

Another unique aspect of Greenvicw Estates is the gently curving design of all streets. This feature, along with the fact that there are no through streets, makes all streets within the community quite safe for children.

This is the "hometown" story at Pequannock. An old-fashioned friendliness. Old-world craftsmanship. Old-time value. See it yourself — now!
