For Mixed Marriages

ST. LOUIS (CNS) — Mixed marriages in which both partners are Catholics, if both are clergy or are bishops, may be permitted by the Vatican in some cases, Archbishop Edward A. Joensen, St. Louis, has said.

Speaking at the dedication ceremonies for a new church, St. Gabriel, the archbishop said several years ago a Vatican commission was appointed to consider the question of mixed marriages. The question of mixed marriages will be discussed at the next ecumenical council, he added.

"This is the first time that the question of mixed marriages has been put on the agenda of the council," he said.

Father Joensen said he was not aware of any instances of mixed marriages in which both partners are Catholics, but he added that the question is being studied by the Vatican commission.

The question of mixed marriages is being studied by the Vatican commission because of the developments in the Church on the question of divorce and remarriage.

Coercion: New Word, Old Idea

By Rev. John Donnelly, S.J., New Advocate

One word - "coercion" - stands out as the central concept of the document. It is the key to its message, and its importance cannot be overstated.

The CONTEXT of coercion is the current state of affairs. It is the very essence of the situation, the root of the problem. Without a clear understanding of it, the rest of the document becomes incomprehensible.

THROUGH THE WORD "coercion" one must go to understand the true meaning of this document. It is the key, and without it, the rest falls apart. It is the heart of the matter, and it must be understood thoroughly.

The document itself is a call to action, a plea for understanding and cooperation. It is a clarion call to a world that is on the brink of disaster.

Disorders would rather submit to the decrees of the Church, than to the decrees of the State, than to the decrees of the Pope. In the words of the Declaration of the Right of the People to Use Reason and to Form Opinions, it is a matter of life and death. It is the very survival of humanity at stake.

If coercion is not to be, if it is not to end the suffering of the innocent, if it is not to bring about a world of peace and justice, then it is up to us, as a society, to take action. It is up to us to change the world, to make it a better place for all.

The Creator also asks that we take this responsibility seriously. He asks that we work towards a world where coercion is not a part of the fabric of society. He asks that we fight against it, and that we work towards a world where it is not necessary.

The word "coercion" is the key to the document. It is the key to understanding the message, and it is the key to making the world a better place. It is up to us to make it so.

Defending Our Police

In recent months we have read, watched, and heard via various media of large demonstrations, threats, and outright destruction of public property. What often strikes the casual observer is the relative silence that follows. But please remember that after the movie camera and the microphone have gone, the protesters often leave behind destruction. The rioter does not always carry the police’s badge, or wear a union label, or wave a red flag. And the destruction of public property is not the passive acceptance, or the equivocal silence, of the, “protesters.”

WHAT IS FACTUAL is the recent round-up of the Kimmie County Jail prior to Superior Court Judge Alexander T. Wigg. We were told to hear that those of our fellow citizens who wish to demonstrate by taking the law into their own hands, or by demonstrating in a manner that incites to disorder or destruction, will now find themselves under the law.

The jail said that there were approximately 400 persons in 1983—a year after the legislature passed a new criminal assault and robbery statute—than there had been in Kimmie’s jail a high 20 years earlier with a population of only 100. The bail said that these arrests and officers charged under the law to maintain peace and order.

Editor:

In the April 30 edition, a range of which we have just received, an article on the Church. The story covered the new liturgical calendar, the Pope's recent encyclical, and various other topics. We welcome the opportunity to respond to some of the points made in the article.

First, regarding the liturgical calendar, we believe that it is a positive step for the Church to move away from a calendar that is based on the Old Testament to one that is based on the New Testament. This will help to better reflect the Gospel message and the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Second, regarding the Pope's recent encyclical, we believe that it is a timely and important message that addresses the challenges facing the Church today. It is a call to action for Catholics to become more involved in their local communities and to work towards justice and peace.

We appreciate the opportunity to respond to these issues and hope that our readers will continue to engage in thoughtful and constructive dialogue on matters of faith and justice.
Fr. Landers finds A Way to Help In Honduras

NEWARK — The elderly Irish

FATHER LANDERS

The Catholic Church in

To be Catholic in Colonial New Jersey was for the most part a way of life, a way that afforded personal freedom and independence

from political discomforts and the need

This is exactly what happened to William

Government Investigating Indian Church Desecrations

Karnal, Ind.—A large force of police and criminal inspectors was yesterday sent to the village of Cipero Sivudu, forty miles from this city, in connection with the alleged desecration of the Panamanian Baptist Church in that locality. Superintendent of Police, H. N. S. Ruddy, who is in charge of the investigation, said he had reason to believe that a number of persons had been responsible for the desecration. The charge was made by the Rev. John E. F. Austin, pastor of the church, who said that the synagogue had been burned and that the property had been seriously damaged.

Falk, Andrew J., an Army Chaplain, said that the church had been entered and that the property had been damaged.

The investigation is being conducted by the police, who have reason to believe that a number of persons have been responsible for the desecration. The charge was made by the Rev. John E. F. Austin, pastor of the church, who said that the synagogue had been burned and that the property had been seriously damaged.

REMITTANCE, Will Help Others

RECOMMENDING to trip to other countries. We haven't been to New York City or Florida. We're planning to go to England in April. We'd like to see the Isle of Capri and other places. We've also decided to see Spain, France, Italy, and Germany.

We plan to visit Madrid, Barcelona, and Rome. We want to see the Colosseum and the Pantheon.

Our trip will be a bit of a splurge, but we know the other fellow who's been to Spain will enjoy it. We're looking forward to our trip to Spain.

ABOVE DAYS when you're feeling blue, just remember that you're living the life of a king. You're living in a palace, and you have the finest food and drink available.

Like many other people, I don't think it's good to be too rich. It's good to be able to enjoy life, and I think you should enjoy life to the fullest.

You don't have to be too rich to enjoy life, but you do have to be able to enjoy life to the fullest. You have to be able to enjoy life to the fullest if you want to be happy.

Fresh Leaves No Stone Unturned in Search for Personal Development

By JOHN TIMBER

POTSDAM — Dave Fresh had popped a lot of deep holes when he started his first base- ball season as an old-timer catcher for the former Johnsville High School baseball team.

Now he says he’ll be happy just to see the first pitch at a ball game this summer, and he hopes to play around-town not as catcher, but as a bat or a pinch-hitter.

Fresh takes his baseball very seriously and his enthusiasm was evident from the outset.

"I’m looking forward to playing with some of the younger kids," he said.

Fresh is back with the Johnsville High School baseball team this year and he says he’s not just going to be a spectator, but will do everything he can to help.

"I’m looking forward to playing with some of the younger kids," he said.

Fresh is a big fan of the game and he says he’s looking forward to playing with some of the younger kids.

For a short time, Fresh even considered playing for the Johnsville High School baseball team, but decided against it.

Committee on Public Decency

NORTH (television) - A nationwide drive to establish a Public Decency Committee was announced at the radio industry meeting at the Hotel Tower here last night.

The New York Post-Standard has announced the formation of the new committee in the wake of criticism of the New York State legislature's failure to act on the matter of indecent language and behavior on the air. The Post-Standard said the committee would operate under the aegis of the National Council of Churches and would be headed by a national councilman.

The committee will be composed of representatives from various groups, including educators, clergy, and laymen. It will be charged with the responsibility of maintaining a high standard of public decency.

Daniel M. McCracken of Albion, who is a member of the Committee on Public Decency, said the object of the drive was to "get the word out" on the problem of indecent language and behavior on the air.

"We believe that it is our responsibility as a member of the community to take action to correct this situation," he said.

The committee has already been in contact with various groups and organizations, and it is expected that the first meeting of the committee will be held shortly.

Pool Adds Fun, Value to Home

A fast-growing facet of outdoor living is the swimming pool, which first gained popularity in California and Florida, then spread in the southeastern part of the U.S., and finally spread throughout the entire nation.

To illustrate the speed with which home pool construction has increased, slightly more than 3,000 installations were made in 1958, while the final figure for 1962 was approximately 30% higher than four years ago.

In addition to the family fun swimming a home pool can be an excellent investment worth hundreds of dollars more than its cost. For example, a pool costing $5,000 will often increase the resale value of the home by $4,000 or even $5,000.

Besides these attractions, swimming pools on farms and in rural areas have considerable value as water reservoirs in case of fire and can mean the difference between saving a home or not if pumping units have a handy supply of water from which to draw.

Enjoyment of pools can be enhanced between two and four months by installing an LPG automatic pool heater that will maintain water temperatures within two degrees of the desired setting.

If a year-round swimming pool is desired, the pool can be enclosed in a weather-resistant patio structure heated to a comfortable 75 degrees with an LPG space heater. With such an installation, the family pool will be a popular gathering place — as well as a profitable home improvement — during the 12 months of the year.

Among the more popular types of pool construction are: waterpoured concrete, sprayed concrete or concrete blocks, steel, aluminum, plastic molds or shells and other variations.

Channel Adds ‘Leisure Living Center’

A Gemmill Release

Channel Lumber Company’s Leisure Living Center, 82-22 Springfield, adjacent to the Channel Lumber store offers 13,000 square feet of exhibits featuring the latest materials and designs in home improvements including kitchens, finished basements, finished attics, recreation rooms, bathrooms and patio ideas.

The Leisure Living Center includes actual patio settings for the suburbanite to use as idea-getters — plus a 10 by 20 ft. sunken swimming pool. These and other outdoor living themes will serve as headquarters for ideas and innovations.

Each member of the center staff, said Connell, is versed in the use of the various items on display and will be able to offer advice, aid and suggestions to the consumer.

Also part of this store is the recreation and hobby area featuring complete equipment lines for sports, with particular emphasis on those which have boomed during the last five to 10 years. These include isometric exercises, skin diving, scuba diving, camping, and interest in outdoor cooking.

Golf, tennis, skiing, fishing will also be represented at Leisure Living Center, with special equipment for Mrs. Suburbanite as well as her husband, Connell said.
Pool on Display
At World’s Fair

A Page Release

The billion-dollar World’s Fair has opened with America’s swimming pool industry represented by a vinyl pool, in the ground swimming pool, known as “The Pool of Tomorrow” and sold locally through Ray Westdyk Swimming Pools, Inc. of Wyckoff.

The only residential pool selected by the Fair is in a Buster Crabbe egg-shaped pool, with a vinyl liner, manufactured by Cascade Pools of Edison.

Popular Olympic swimming champion Buster Crabbe, executive director of Cascade Pools, joined members of the press corps, executives of Cascade, and the World’s Fair to officially open the pool exhibit at the House of Good Taste.

Norma Westdyk, president of Ray Westdyk Swimming Pools, Inc. said the World’s Fair pool is called the Triform Model II measures 18 by 22 feet, with a diving depth of nearly nine feet, and a shallow area with a depth of three feet. It is one of 18 different shapes and sizes manufactured by Cascade and sold locally, some below $1,000.

Now You Can Take Your Pool With You

A Bernstein-Carrer Release

A leading New Jersey swimming pool builder is offering buyers a new plan of ownership that guarantees: “You can take it with you!”

The plan, aimed at both insurance and reassurance, is being offered by Cypress Pools of Rt. 22, Scotch Plains. Robert W. Wilson, president of Cypress Pools, explained the plan this way:

“We are guaranteeing buyers who request this assurance that we will move their swimming pool for them to any suitable location in our selling area if circumstances require them to move within three years of their purchase. We will move the pool and fill in the vacated area, and the buyer will be required to pay only a small part of the cost.

The service will be costly to Cypress Pools if the company is called on to carry out its promise, but Wilson said the offer was being made for three reasons.

The first, he said, is to dramatize the stubbornness and durability of a Cypress Pool, to demonstrate that even after installation in the ground it can be moved.

The second reason, he said, is to overcome reluctance on the part of homeowners who are fearful that for some unforeseen reason they may find it necessary to move.

The third reason, Wilson said, is to emphasize the fact that a swimming pool so enhances property values that an owner will be able to get a premium price for his home, more than covering the cost of installation, and will be able to sell much more quickly than he would without this added asset. The difference, according to Wilson, will more than pay for a new pool.

The cost to a Cypress Pool buyer who does exercise the option will be about $150. This is less than half the expense of the operation, Wilson said.

Our getaway car is really a VW Campmobile. Any Standard Station Wagon, Kombi or Panel Truck we sell can be one. It’s just a matter of getting one of our Campmobile Kits.

For instance, if you like super de luxe living, get our Super De luxe Kit. Beds for four big people and two little people, Icebox, Stove, Running water, Dinettes, Shower, And John.

Or if you prefer light housekeeping, get our Basic Kit. That way you can pack up things as you go along, like an icebox, Or stove, Etc.
