

Walsh Library Gallery presents
The Perspective Figure Expressions of Women by Women
May 4 - June 23, 2000

Between May 4 and June 23 the Walsh Library Gallery presents a new exhibition - The Perspective Figure : Expressions of Women by Women. The exhibit features the work of four artists working in a variety of different media: Nomi Raia Friedman (oils), Maria Lupo (mixed media), Yanka Cantor (sculpture) and Lora Shelley (oil, acrylic and mixed media). Through their individual styles each artist reveals not only depictions of the female form but creates a window into their own interpretation of art and the many expressions it can take. The exhibit was co-curated by Babe Model and Patrick Shaw, students in the Graduate Program in Museum Professions; Jo Ann Cotz, Gallery Director, was the faculty advisor. Co-sponsored by the Graduate Program in Museum Professions, the exhibit was funded by the Women's Resource Center, The Department of Art and Music, and the Friends of the Walsh Library Gallery. The artist's collective efforts can be viewed Monday- Friday 10:30 am -4:30 pm and by appointment. Call 973-275-2033 for additional information
