Senior Class
of
SETON HALL COLLEGE
SOUTH ORANGE, N. J.
Our last act as Seniors is the publication of this souvenir, reincarnated by the Class of 1939 after a long absence from the campus. Our one message is this:—Always, despite adversity and grief, despite the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, despite criticism and rebuke—always keep the name of Seton Hall on a pedestal, for others to see and to wonder. For its stamp is upon you, and you, as its representative, must go out into the world to fight for your existence.

And the world will watch you, you who are Seton Hall. Uphold and defend the principles which have been inculcated in you, and it must follow, as the night the day, our school, our religion, our ideals will not be false to any man.
Dedication

To Our Parents

The four years rightfully belonging, once enrolled, to the Class of 1940, are at an end. The foundation for a good, Christian life has been given us by our professors. The friendships we have acquired are the result of our own good fortune, the benefits of our education are yet to be derived.

But in back of it all, never looking for praise, not looking for thanks, are the parents of each of us; some have made great sacrifices to give us that extra boost that all men cannot have. And no matter how hard we work, no matter what we say we'll never feel satisfied that we've repaid them for that unselfish act which they've made.

So it is to you, our parents, may God bless you, that the 1940 Galleon is dedicated. It is right from the hearts of each of us that we inscribe you as most worthy of the honor of dedication.

Our gratitude, though we may not be able to express it, is boundless. For your guiding hands, for your tender love, for your consoling words—for you, we will be forever grateful.

Thus we dedicate, as a lasting emblem of our love, devotion, and honor, this 1940 Galleon to you, our own, our loving parents.

May God grant His greatest blessings to each of you, and may our prayers help you to happiness, not only on this earth, but in God's Kingdom for all eternity.

ALMA MATER

Alma Mater sons be loyal,
Keep her name in purest light;
Never waver from her precepts,
Guard her banner—Blue and White.

O, sing her praise to highest skies
And be ye faithful in her eyes,
For she will foster all your dreams,
Her name is Seton Hall,
Her name is Seton Hall.

When on life’s hard stones you stumble
Pray to God to be your guide.
Think of Seton Hall, your Mother,
Then forge on in steady stride.

O, sing her praise to highest skies
And be ye faithful in her eyes,
For she will foster all your dreams,
Her name is Seton Hall,
Her name is Seton Hall.
CLASSES

BAYLEY HALL
GUIDED by a real executive, James C. Canniff, the Class of 1940 got along famously throughout the year. Canniff, naturally, was the leader, with his business acumen and sincere friendliness, while Peter F. Finnerty, Thomas J. Simons, and Peter A. Leone filled their roles with the aplomb of true officers. It is noteworthy that neither of the two men, of whom the class is proud to have elected President, served more than two terms. However, both Patrick J. Scally, who held office the first two years, and Canniff, Junior and Senior prexy, exercised the privileges and duties of their office with real Christian zeal and ability.

The Galleon staff takes this opportunity, therefore, to thank and praise both Scally and Canniff, as well as the other officers throughout our four years, for a job well done.
CLASS HISTORY

Commencement Day, June 12, will make the Class of 1940 a thing of the past, another group with memories of four years spent together in hard work and pleasant activities. It will be difficult for us to relinquish our intimacy with the Purple Hills as a student group, but time flies and we must be on our way.

The bonfire and trip to Villanova for the basketball opener was the biggest event in our freshman year; in fact, it seems as the most noteworthy of our entire stay because of the unselfishness, the spirit, the happiness with which we entered into it.

There were other things, however, in our stay that stand out. Among them are the winning streak of the fencers, cagers, and ball team; grand Junior Proms, Senior Balls, and Senior Farewells each year; institution of the
CLASS HISTORY

Dean's List, Phi Kappa Pi, A.A., Cross and Crescent, Bayley Society, and many other groups; new coaches in our first year as old Seton Hall began her climb to prominence with a new president; the many rumors each year about a new gym and the fulfillment of the dream this Spring; parking regulations on the campus and pedestrian regulations on the stairs of the various buildings; new teachers and new prefects; Ethics and Psychology; being fitted for graduation rings—oh, there were so many fine attributes of Seton Hall, our Alma Mater, that we could fill the entire book with them, without a doubt.

We've got them in our hearts, those memories, and, though classes may come and go, we'll still retain our reminiscent thoughts of the Purple Hills until death.

"A heart to resolve, a head to contrive, and a hand to execute."—Gibbon.

Columbia High School Maplewood, N. J.

Next year Cornell Medical School will welcome "Jim," first Setonian ever to be accepted by that great institution. Handicapped by paralysis since childhood, his acceptance only climaxes a brilliant record as a student, as a class leader, and as a true, loyal friend. They don't come any better than "Trigger."

Paterson, N. J.

The great dissenter in person, the bellowing voice of the representative from Paterson more than once took his professors or classmates to task over one of his objections. A keen wit, with an inflexible will, "Peter" always has a new idea, a different slant concerning student government on the campus. His well-chosen words and fiery leadership stand him well as a teacher.

"Condit" has carved a niche in the hearts of all his classmates. Faithful always, he repeatedly came to our rescue in the social studies courses with his phenomenal memory of historical data. We look for "Ozzie" to revolutionize the Dewey System in library work because of his vast experience in this field.

Class politician, a singer and dancer of no mean ability, "Bernie" has a knack of keeping friends that defies description. Easy going, apparently half-asleep, the Galleon business leader nevertheless is keen and perceptive, and should make his mark in business or politics. He's always shaking someone's hand.

This lovable Irishman best exemplified the name "all around fellow" because of his executive capacities, his scholastic record and his better-than-average ability in all sports. Sincere and persevering, "Joe" is, however, gay and light-hearted. Just try to stop him from laughing once he gets started.

Tall, dark, and handsome—that's "Jack." Ace left-hander on Al Mammay's nine, this Bronx boy landed in the Purple Hills as a Sophomore, after one year at Fordham University, and, we might add, neither Setonia or "Lefty" has regretted the change. Can imitate any dance band named and has a nice tenor voice as well.

Modest, quiet, conservative "Dick" could, nevertheless, really swing out on his saxophone to the delight of all within hearing range. Well-versed in the fields of literature and drama, and well able to hold his own in the science lab, "Smoky" is our idea of a well-informed, interesting country gentleman. After spending his Freshman year at Georgetown University, "Hank" decided to continue his college career here at the Hall. Thus in our Sophomore annum we made his acquaintance, finding him to be a man of many interests ranging from the intricacies of oriental psychology and classical music to ping-pong and intramural sports. "Hank" is possessed of an extremely methodical mind and the precise recordings of the results of his research fill many notebooks. This should be a valuable asset in the scientific career which he has chosen to pursue.

“Harry”, “H. David”

“All great men are to some degree inspired”

—Tully.

La Salle Academy

New York City

For color and spark, Harry is one of the best in the business. His buoyant spirit spells sure success. We all enjoyed his unique performances on the mound and basketball courts, as well as his vehement tirades in the interest of Catholic Action. H. David is capable of talking himself into or out of practically anything.

"George"

"The noblest mind, the most contentment has"
—Spencer.

Immaculate Conception High Montclair, N. J.

George is our class authority on history, particularly that of our own fair land, and is usually called upon by our professors to explain facts or events of historical nature. Alternate to West Point for two years, authority on sports, literature, and the arts, this Montclair resident bids fair to become an outstanding success in his chosen field.

"Bill"

"He is a scholar and a ripe good one"—Shakespeare.

Seton Hall Prep Newark, N. J.

Few of us possess the ability to combine excellent scholarship with practical proficiency, and none to the extent that "Bill" has developed it. His accomplishments bespeak intensive use of a thirty-hour day in other hands. It would be superfluous for us to predict a successful future for this potential lawyer.

"Pat", "Mother"

"A well-bred man is always sociable and complaisant" —Montaigne.

Saint John's Prep
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Our estimation of Brooklyn has been considerably enhanced by having "Pat" with us. As class president the first two years and chairman of a dance committee, "Pat" manifested excellent executive ability. This past year found "Mother" Scally putting the boys in the Prep to bed at night which considerably curtailed his activities, but he retained an active interest in class affairs despite his duties as prefect.

While commuting daily from Jersey City, going to classes, and working George still found time for the varsity track team. An outstanding distance man, he was elected Captain of the Coatesmen this year. We're sure that all this track experience will help George when he's "running" for office in his home bailiwick.

Saint Benedict's Prep, Elizabeth, N. J.

The Senior most worthy to exemplify Webster's definition of that desirable attribute "sincerity" is the "Doc." Together with that, his altruistic spirit has made him the beloved center of our admiration. When things looked black, "Tom's" logical explanations always came to the fore to clear up all our doubts.

Although a consistent member of the Glee Club for four years John, unlike many artists, has never gone temperamental on us. Possessing a mild disposition "Smitty" made a friend of each Senior individually. We don't know what Mr. Smith will do in the future but there's always Washington.

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE

Fifty
THE success of the Class of 1941 over the past year may be summed up in exactly two words: "Junior Prom." The Juniors put over the greatest dance in Setonia history, a big-name band featuring our Alma Mater in two coast-to-coast broadcasts.

Patrick J. Troy of Newark retained the president’s chair for the year, his associates being James J. Curry of Newark, vice-president; George B. Rooney of East Orange, Secretary; and Diaz V. Cetrulo of Newark, treasurer.

Robert F. Duffy of Orange, was the Prom Chairman, while other appointments found James J. Flynn of Orange being named yearbook editor and Joseph A. MacMahon of Summit, business manager.

Other Junior notables were James J. Swift and William G. Sharwell, editor and business manager of The Setonian; Thomas J. Higgins, vice-president of the Dramatic Society and John P. Synan, vice-president of the Student Council and Setonian sports editor.

JUST as the good ship "Class of 1940" has conquered the tempests and sailed serenely into port, so, too, has our seaworthy Galleon reached home with all sails unfurled. Following the splendid example set by the Class of 1939 (Charlie Judge and Ed McNally in particular) in reviving the yearbook, a small number of hard working Seniors took up the burden where other classes had failed, and toiled for the realization of their dreams, "The 1940 Galleon."

Late in our Junior Year, the class voted Patrick J. Scally and Bernard J. Connell the posts of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager, respectively. However, Mr. Scally, pressed with his burden as prefect in the Prep, had to relinquish his position and another election was held. This time John J. Meade, with his wide experience as Setonian chieftain for two years, was chosen, and immediately plans were formulated. Joseph B. Kenah and Joseph E. Connolly were picked by Mr. Connell as his aides, while the Editor’s choices were William P. Reiss, James A. Hession, Thomas J. Simons, Robert J. Intermont, and Henry L. Komarowski.

White Studios again captured the photography contract while the New City Printing Company of Union City, the pioneers in Engravatone printing, was awarded the publishing rights.

Other members were added to the editorial staff, Joseph W. Hanley, Joseph J. Florio, Harry D. Purcell, James C. Canniff, and William C. Currall, and gradually results began to appear.

THE GLEE CLUB

The most energetic schedule in the history of the Glee Club was arranged this year, with concerts at Georgian Court, New Rochelle, Saint Elizabeth's, Caldwell College, Good Counsel, and Immaculata College, as well as two radio broadcasts, and the annual concert May 10 in Newark.

The group possessed a number of experienced choristers this year, while the uninitiated progressed rapidly under the patient and efficient tutelage of Professor Nicola A. Montani, the director. All were molded into a capable choral society which merited praise from those who heard it.

Reference should be made also to the Glee Club's most faithful member, who never sang a note, but whose presence was assured at rehearsals every Tuesday and Thursday. He is the club's moderator and most ardent rooter, Rev. Harold J. Dilger. It is through his efforts that the Glee Club, by its excellent renditions of sacred and secular music, continues to enhance the name of Seton Hall throughout the country.

President this year was Joseph B. Kenah, while the other officials were: William G. Curall, Vice-President; Edward J. Blewitt, Secretary; Bernard J. Fialcowicz, Treasurer.

CARL WAGNER

To become a successful teacher patience is an asset of vital necessity. This is probably the reason for the phenomenal success of Nicola A. Montani, K.C.S.S., director of the Glee Club. Possessing a tireless vitality, he molds together each year a well-organized choral group, ranking near the top of similar college organizations.

Professor Montani conducts the excellent choir of the Seminary at Darlington, as well as others throughout the Archdiocese, and also shows his cultured hand in the results of efforts by other glee clubs at Georgian Court, Immaculata, and Chestnut Hill.

It is an honor indeed to have this accomplished teacher at the helm of our Glee Club, and we wish him continued success in the field of music.
THE PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

THE launching into a study of the "Psychologia Perennis" of St. Thomas Aquinas in our Senior year bewildered us with the array of problems such a course presents. To meet the querulous spirit manifested in class to give vent to the enthusiasm shown by the Freshmen in their new Psychology course, Rev. Doctor Gregory Schramm organized the Psychology Club, aided by Mr. Howard J. Leahy.

William P. Reiss was elected President, John J. Smith, Secretary, and Elmer J. Smith, Treasurer at the first meeting. Debates and lectures followed, featured by a discussion of "Latent Life" by the Benedictine scientist, Rev. Dr. Gilbert Rahm.

A demonstration of the Fordham Lie Detector and a visit to the County insane asylum were other highlights of an interesting program.
UNDER the paternal and capable care of its Moderator, Rev. Dr. John L. McNulty, the Brownson Club has become one of the major intellectual organizations on the campus. This year was especially significant in that it was the first time in history of Seton Hall that debaters had engaged a young ladies' college, Georgian Court.

William G. Currall, manager of the society, was instrumental in drawing up a fine schedule, numbering, among others, St. John's, New York University, John Marshall, Upsala, City College, Villanova, Rutgers, Fordham, Canisius, Providence, Brown, and Montclair.

The group discussed topics concerning the foreign policy of the United States, the length of the presidential term, and the place of the woman in modern society, and the schedule included a trip through New England and Pennsylvania.

Other offices besides Currall are: Edward F. Shanahan, President; Robert J. Intermont, Vice-President, and Thomas J. Simons, Treasurer.
An open forum lecture series, with discussions by six prominent doctors, was the highlight of activity by the Pre-Med Seminar this year. Arranged by Secretary James C. Canniff, the forum was featured by Dr. Harrison Martland's world-famous lecture, "Dr. Watson and Mr. Sherlock Holmes."

The prime purpose of the Seminar is to create and foster in its members a spirit of research and appreciation for subjects which are of predominate interest to the medical profession.

John J. Kavanagh was President, Canniff, Secretary and Chairman of the Program Committee, and Paul Riccardi, Treasurer.
In its third year of existence the education honor society, Phi Kappa Pi, continued as one of the most exclusive organizations on the campus. Strict entrance requirements make this situation so. Fostering the spirit of research, and seeking to raise to a still higher level the quality of scholarship in the field of education, Phi Kappa Pi was forced to relinquish, however, its Moderator, Dr. Howard E. Merity, to an administrative position in Hudson County. John J. Meade retained his Presidency for the third consecutive year, other officers being Thomas J. Simons, William G. Cur rall, and James A. Hession.
APPPOINTED by Student Council President Joseph E. Connolly, the Ring Committee was organized in order to select a design for a school ring that will become standardized. Every graduating class has had its own peculiarities in ring design and the idea of a standard ring was approved to obtain some sort of order for future graduates.

John P. Synan heads the board as chairman with the remainder of the committee being composed of Robert M. Bloss, Edward B. Ryan, Joseph T. Egan, Jr., Robert F. Duffy, and Louis R. Thebault.
ALL-AROUND proficiency—studies, personality, and extra-curricular activities—marked requirements for Setonia's newest honor society, formed in March 1939, by members of the faculty.

The awards, beautiful bronze keys, were presented to the chosen men at the annual Junior Night program of the Class of 1940 last year. It is expected to be an annual presentation.

Applicants must sport a high scholastic average in addition to taking an active part in two extra-curricular organization. Added to that the students must have a high rating as to speaking ability, general appearance and neatness, and a pleasing personality.
ORGANIZED this year by Dr. George W. King of the Department of Social Sciences, after whom it was named, the pre-legal society sought to instruct future lawyers in the proper course of study here and to acquaint them with the various requirements of Law Schools.

Recognition of the College by various graduate schools was sought for and gained. Legal questions and technicalities of timely interest and importance were thoroughly discussed and digested, and the bulletin of the American Bar Association was often resorted to in order to settle debates.

William M. Thomas was President, John J. Byrne, Vice-President, Francis X. McCormick, Secretary, and George Lair, Treasurer.
AFFILIATED with the National Federation of Catholic College Students and the Student Peace League, the Bayley Society continued to serve the purpose for which it was organized, that of representing Setonia at the various meetings, symposiums, and congresses that are held throughout the East.

A noteworthy achievement has been the placing of one of its number on the board of national officers of the N. F. C. C. S. for the past three years, William G. Currall being National Treasurer for the past school year.

Above all it has sought to foster an enlightened Catholic public opinion so that Catholics may have a voice in fashioning order out of the chaos of national affairs and international relations.

The officers are: H. David Purcell, President; James J. Swift, Vice-President; William G. Currall, Secretary, and Thomas J. Simons, Treasurer.
THE Dramatic Society of Seton Hall College has for many years been one of the main channels of cultural development among the students. Under the direction of Professor James A. O'Connell the high calibre of drama has been maintained and each year the efforts of the society have met with unqualified success. During our four years among the plays presented were "Jonesy," "The Perfect Alibi," and "The Tavern." Each of these was marked with outstanding performances by Thomas Higgins, John Synan and Dominick Passante, the President of the Society.

In addition to the usual Spring show, many one act plays were given during the year, among them "The Still Alarm," "The Bishop's Candlesticks" and "The First Legion." Another feature which has been developed during the past year is the attempt to develop The School of the Air in which the students presented plays for radio dramatization. Sound effects and announcing were handled by the students. In future years much success should be realized in this field, due to the fine start achieved this year. The officers of the Society are: Dominic L. Passante, President; Thomas J. Higgins, Vice-President; Vincent J. La Vigna, Secretary, and Frank J. Barry, Treasurer.
STUDENT CRUSADE FOR AMERICANISM

Now in its second year of existence, the Student Crusade for Americanism, organized to foster the spirit of democracy on the campus, numbers about 400 students on its rolls. The threefold purpose of the Crusade, as set forth by its executive board, is to form a united front against unwanted isms, to prepare students for intelligent citizenship, and to combat race discrimination.

The Crusade's widely-publicized opposition to the American Student Union has been enthusiastically acclaimed by many of the nation's leading journals. This year was noteworthy because of the appearance of Governor Moore and ex-Governor Hoffman on the Crusade dais.
The Knights of Setonia launched into their second year in September. Following the zealous leadership of their Moderator, Father Carey, these students both boarding and day, showed real loyalty to their Eucharistic King by offering Mass in inspiring numbers. Not a few made considerable sacrifices to join with their fellow Knights each week. The lively weekly bulletin, new pins, and the resplendent red and gold banner were but material evidences of resurgent spiritual vigor.
"CURSED be he that doth the work of the Lord negligently." Thus do we size up the activity of the Altar Society through its motto, taken from Jeremias (48:10). And from the motto one would gather that membership in this organization would be shunned, but this is not the case.

Made up almost entirely of resident students, the men serve every Mass in the Chapel, and assist at the Forty Hours and Midnight Mass. Led by its Moderator, Rev. Harold J. Dilger, and Sacristan Bradley Cohn, the group lends personal weight to the phrase "Ad Maiorem Dei Gloriam."

THE SCHOLA CANTORUM

THIS organization enjoyed a busy season having had well over fifty engagements. Parishes, colleges, male and female societies provided the wide variety of audiences which were treated to the harmonies of the Schola.

The Setonians sang for the first centenary observance of St. Vincent’s parish, Madison, and at the diamond jubilee celebration of St. Luke’s Hohokus. But the live ten (with feathers) pound turkey bought at auction at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel’s, Jersey City, was the highlight of parish visits. At two lectures of Father Hubbard, “the Glaver Priest,” the “sextettes” gave their melodic best. They also rendered a varied program of selections on the occasion of the address of former Governor Harold G. Hoffman here at the college. The concerts at St. Elizabeth’s Convent Station and at Georgian Court College, Lakewood were among the outstanding events of the season.
By helping to make the impressive religious ceremonies of the Catholic Church a living entity on the campus, the Choir has played a far more important part of Seton Hall life than one is at first willing to admit. This group of young men spent long hours to learn the musical liturgy of the Church, and the many edifying and inspiring ceremonies for which the College Chapel has been the scene are sufficient testimony to the energy and success of this organization.

The ringing strains of “Holy God, we praise Thy Name” will ever be on the lips of true Setonian men.
A STANDARD platform—unity and cooperation—is the by-word for both the Hi-S Club and the Blue Circle, the latter in its first year of existence. The former group airs all grievances of the basketball team, ironing out difficulties so that there will be not dissension on the court, while the latter group performs the same function among the boarding students.
ATHLETICS

ST. PETER'S
The Athletic Association maintained the high standard set by previous organizations, especially in the running of Seton Hall's track meet, gradually becoming the most startling, as far as results are concerned, in the entire indoor campaign. More A.A. cards were sold than the previous year, and athletic schedules embraced a wider range of representative teams than in the past few years.

William M. Thomas was elected President, with Robert F. Duffy, Gerard E. Dalton, and Vincent J. Spatuzzi obtaining the other official positions.

COACH GEORGE E. MIELE'S second year as soccer mentor found seven veterans reporting for work and, with the zeal and eagerness displayed by the other members of the 32-man squad, a team was hurriedly molded for the first encounter.

The eleven showed great scoring punch after being held scoreless in its first two games, Captain Mike Stanish and his mates tallying 13 points in the last six contests against top-notch opposition.

The outstanding achievement was the representation of Seton Hall for the first time, by any team, south of the Mason and Dixon line. There the club tied Duke and High Point, the latter Southern Conference champions, and finished the season with a triumphant display against Davidson, 4-1.

OUR hats are off to Coach John “Honey” Russell and his band of Buccaneers for turning in a marvelous piece of work on the court this year. Our Pirates, sparked by an all-sophomore five that rushed all opposition off the floor, wound up with 19 victories and no defeats, the first unblemished basketball record in history at the Hall.

The Purple Hills will long echo and re-echo the praises of this speedy, scrappy, determined squad which overcame injuries and inexperience to march itself into the Setonia Hall of Fame.

And it was not until the final encounter that our boys put on their greatest show. Trailing a fine Scranton University team and with the prospect of seeing an undefeated season fade from sight, the Setonians almost burned the boards in tossing up 19 points in five minutes to save the streak. As the Scranton Times printed the next day: “For devastating beauty it was the nearest thing to perfection imaginable.”

Congratulations to Bernie Coyle, Pete Finnerty, and Harry Purcell, all seniors, for the excellent work accomplished in their four-year stay on the varsity.

BASEBALL

COACH AL MAMAUX'S sensational nine, winner of sixteen consecutive contests last spring, bids fair to establish itself at the top of the intercollegiate heap, if it can continue its phenomenal success against a very strong array of opponents this year. Practically all of the top-notch teams in the East have been contacted for games, as the schedule shows, and Mamaux has high hopes of proving to the baseball world that his ball club is really good. Blessed with tried performers at every position except catcher, Mamaux’s main worry will be to develop a receiver capable enough to handle his fine hurling corps. Lots of luck, Al!

EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONS

VARSITY FENCING

EASTERN Intercollegiate champions in foil, saber, and epee for three years, and East-West titleholders in 1939, Doc Cetrulo's swordsmen have set history with each succeeding bout. Starting the year with a victory skein of 33, the Setonia stabbers waltzed through the campaign with nary a defeat tagged on them to mar their perfect record of 46 consecutive wins.

Harvard, as in last year's setto, gave our boys the most trouble, but Diaz Cetrulo, who incidentally has a report card showing 110 wins and 1 loss, pulled his mates over the top against the Crimson with some dazzling dueling. As the good ship "Galleon" goes to press, the "Men in White" are preparing for the East-West matches and the National Individual Championships at Columbia, Ohio.

VARSITY TRACK

THE outstanding events indoors were the smashing of the world's record for the 880-yard relay by a freshman team of Joe Matyunas, Ted Janiak, Walt Malita, and Larry Dineen, and the capturing of the State A. A. U. championships in the Newark Armory. Carmen Bova, too, turned in some nice work, losing mile runs to Glenn Cunningham and John Borican by inches, and anchoring a two-mile relay team that set a new Manual Training meet record.

Joe Matyunas was outstanding in individual events throughout the season, with Bill Slack, Chet Lipski, Captain George Sexton, Tony Lukis, and Henry Sancier turning in some nice performances.
FRESHMAN CROSS-COUNTRY

A powerful array of distance stars, led by Captain Carmen Bova, turned in victories in their two starts over the Frosh combinations of Lafayette and Manhattan. Bova, George Fruehan, Danny Mindheim, Bob Rainier, Ken Horoho, and Bill Gannon formed the lineup that registered another undefeated season for a Blue and White team.

The yearlings handed in a perfect report, 15-40, against the Leopards and followed up with a surprisingly easy triumph over the powerful Jaspers, 19-36. Bova also took extra glory by being the first Jerseyan to finish in the National A. A. U. 10000 meters, which was won by Don Lash.
IN its first year under the guidance of its new coach, Bill Ferinden, and its second year of existence fared no better than it had in the inaugural season of 1938-39.

With an eye to the future, added to the fact that he was faced with a lack of material, Coach Ferinden spent the greater part of the season instructing and practicing his charges in the fundamentals of correct breathing, stroking, and turning.

Nevertheless, the season produced several stellar performers. Al Gallo was the most consistent point gainer, his specialty being diving. George Harhen in the breaststroke, Jim Sullivan and Vic Peccarelli in the 50 and 100 yard free styles, and Joe Dougherty in the backstroke were frequent winners. The medley relay team composed of Walt Hunt, Peccarelli, Dougherty, and Sullivan, won eight out of ten races.
TENNIS

BLESSED with a raft of fine veterans Coach Henry Quinn's task this coming season should not be so difficult as in previous years. Jim Sullivan, Setonia ace, won the Orange city title last summer, and, with the support of racket-wielders Ed Piasecki, Phil Rekoon, Vic Peccarelli, Ed Kelly, Harry Purcell, Art Healy, Hilbert Fuerstman, Pete Morelli and others, prospects are bright for a better season than 1939, when the net nymphs captured five out of eleven matches.

Scheduled matches have been obtained with St. Peters, Essex Junior College, Villanova, Newark College of Engineering and Paterson and Newark Teachers.

GOLF

SETONIA'S second attempt at golf as a varsity sport will be made this spring under the guidance of Coach Jack Reitemeier. The difficulty of obtaining practice courses and the lack of experience of his candidates last year resulted in only one win in seven tries, but better prospects are in view.

Jim Liddy, George Harhen, Phil Madden, Ed Sagowski, and Dick Hildebrand are back, along with other Setonians such as George Kelley, Joe Florio, John O'Neill, John Synan, and Joe Hanley.
